HANDGUN SAFETY TRAINING CLASS
FIREARMS INSTRUCTORS

The Jones County Sheriff's Office does not endorse any firearms training class or instructor. However, in the opinion of the Jones County Sheriff's Office, the firearms instructors listed below include information in their training class offerings that we believe is vital to your safety and the safety of the general public. Some of this information consists of, but is not limited to; Iowa laws regarding use of force, deadly force and justification for self-defense, civil liability, safe handling and carrying of firearms and more. These instructors also include a shooting qualification with your handgun as part of their instruction. We believe that it is important for you to demonstrate responsibility with your weapon before applying for a permit to carry that weapon in public. There may be other instructors in the area providing this type of content in their training classes but they may not be listed here because we are not aware of them. You may wish to talk to any potential instructor to determine if their training class includes the topics discussed above. Instructors who want to be listed here should contact the Civil Division at 319-462-5305.

The instructors listed below are being provided for your convenience and information. You may take the handgun safety training class from any certified instructor, as defined in Iowa Code section 724.9

You do not have to take the handgun safety course in Jones County but you must be a Jones County resident to apply for a permit from our office.
